

Have you always dreamt of building your own home? Does your current house need a makeover? Lots of people have lots of ideas about their perfect family home. But how do you translate all those ideas into a suitable plan?

myhomematters has time, knowledge and experience on offer to help you build that dream home. We help you draft up your wish list, prioritise items and translate your ideas into a design for your perfect family home. We can organise and coordinate your building works. However small or big the job, we can take it off your hands and make sure your project will be realized smoothly.

Design

myhomematters has years of experience in designing the perfect floor plan, creating optimum space and flow. myhomematters analyses your needs and requirements in close consultation with you and translates those needs into workable floor plans. We calculate the global costs of each plan and help you to decide which plan is most suitable. myhomematters briefs architects and structural engineers and coordinates the design progress. myhomematters can also take care of getting the right permits for you.

Building

Preparing your construction myhomematters collects, checks and compares price offers and negotiates the best price for you. We make sure all parties deliver according to best practise standard in a timely manner. At completion we inspect the construction works and make sure any issues get solved. myhomematters is an independent company, embedded in the local networks of tradesmen, real estate agents and housing companies. We employ the best possible companies to work for you for the best possible price. Our knowledge, experience and our local insights are on offer to create your ultimate home.
