

Have you always dreamt of building your own home? Is your current house in need of a renovation? Or would you like to turn that unused attic into bedrooms? myhomematters has time, knowledge and experience on offer to help you build that dream home. We help you design your perfect family home. We can organise and coordinate your building works. However small or big the job, we can take it off your hands and make sure your project will be realized smoothly.

Design Services

Lots of people have lots of ideas about their perfect family home. But how do you translate all those ideas into a suitable plan? myhomematters has years of experience in designing the perfect floor plan, creating optimum space and flow. In close consultation with our clients myhomematters analyses their needs and requirements and translates those needs into workable floor plans. We calculate the global costs of each plan and help our clients to decide which plan is most suitable. myhomematters can also take care of getting the right permits and can coordinate the construction works for you.

Building Services

Preparing your construction myhomematters collects, checks and compares price offers and negotiates the best price for you. We make sure all parties deliver according to best practise standard in a timely manner. At completion we inspect the construction works and make sure any issues get solved.

myhomematters is an independent company, embedded in the local networks of tradesmen, real estate agents and housing companies. We employ the best possible companies to work for you for the best possible price. Our knowledge, experience and our local insights are on offer to create your ultimate home.

Property Management

What if you move abroad for a period of time? Or you bought a new house, but you haven't sold the old one yet? Or maybe you want to keep your first house as an investment property? Which ever is the case, your house is in good hands with us. myhomematters takes care of all communication with your tenants and handles justified complaints and urgent matters for you. We take care of the hassles; you get the best return.

Technical, Financial & Commercial Operations

You can entrust us with the full range of financial, technical and commercial operations of your property. We administer accounts, checks that your tenants pay the rent in a timely matter, maintain your property and assess the optimal income potential regularly.

Is your property in need of a renovation? Or do you need it to be freshened up for a new tenant? myhomematters can coordinate your building works too. However small or big the job, we can take it off your hands and make sure your project will be realized smoothly.
